

Who am I?

The wood duck award for this week is presented to one of our loyal supporters, Angus Stewart. Gus, as he's commonly known to his friends, was leaving his home last Sunday to come and watch his beloved Redbacks when he had realised he'd left the lights on in his car and now had a flat battery, deciding then to hop on his deadly tredly and ride into town.

Unfortunately, 3km down the track the chain on his bike broke, but this would not stop Gus, walking the remaining 5km and suffering a rolled ankle along the way after stepping on a rock. Finally, battered and bruised, Gus arrived at the game and took up his usual position behind the goals. Enjoying his mandatory six cans, Gus's bad luck would still continue, when in the final quarter the football came sailing through the goals and hit Gus fair on the face, knocking him off the fence! A fellow supporter then lent Gus their car to go and get himself checked out at the hospital and on his way Gus was pulled over by the boys in blue and unluckily blew over 0.05. Poor old Gus is now up for a $300 fine and six months without a license. We hope your luck changes soon Mr Stewart.
